The Humboldt Recreation Center in Humboldt, IA will house almost 71,000 sf of indoor recreation space. This includes a 200 meter spike-proof track, racquetball and basketball courts, two batting cages, a wrestling practice area, a large weight training area, fitness studios, a walking track, and locker facilities. A custom metal building by Kirby fulfilled the donor's request for a large, versatile and open space. NBG's steel staging app, ShakeoutPro, was utilized to stage the job more efficiently, which accelerated the erection process.

The Recreation Center will provide the entire community with a year-round venue for training and fitness events, currently a challenge in Iowa's climate.
