OUR FOCUS®

Kirby is a leading manufacturer of custom engineered, high quality and cost effective custom-engineered metal building systems. With a tradition of excellence and industry experience dating back over six decades, our quality products include complete framing systems, wall, and roof panel systems, and extended bay options – all engineered and manufactured by Kirby teammates. We are dedicated to serving our customers and demonstrate that dedication by following the Kirby FOCUS.

This FOCUS was developed as a way to distinguish ourselves from the rest of the pack. The market is crowded with metal building companies that claim to have the best products, the best prices, or the best customer service, but who tend to fall woefully short of actually fulfilling those promises. We take our FOCUS to heart, and it shows in everything we do.

SOLUTIONS THAT WORK

ATHLETIC+RECREATIONAL

Kirby Building Systems brings flexibility and economy to the design and construction of your athletic or recreational building. We're proud of our reputation for designing quality into every product, and we would like to share our success with you. From schools to professional training facilities, spectator spaces, open playing areas, or indoor recreation, Kirby has a solution to meet your needs. We're committed to providing exceptional service, design, economy, safety, and versatility.

FAST, COST-EFFECTIVE CONSTRUCTION

Our goal is to provide the customized solution you're looking for, while minimizing the total cost of your investment. Our leading-edge engineering capabilities provide efficient designs, and our smart, easy-to-construct building systems provide a fast and economical way to build your next project.

SUPERIOR PRODUCT

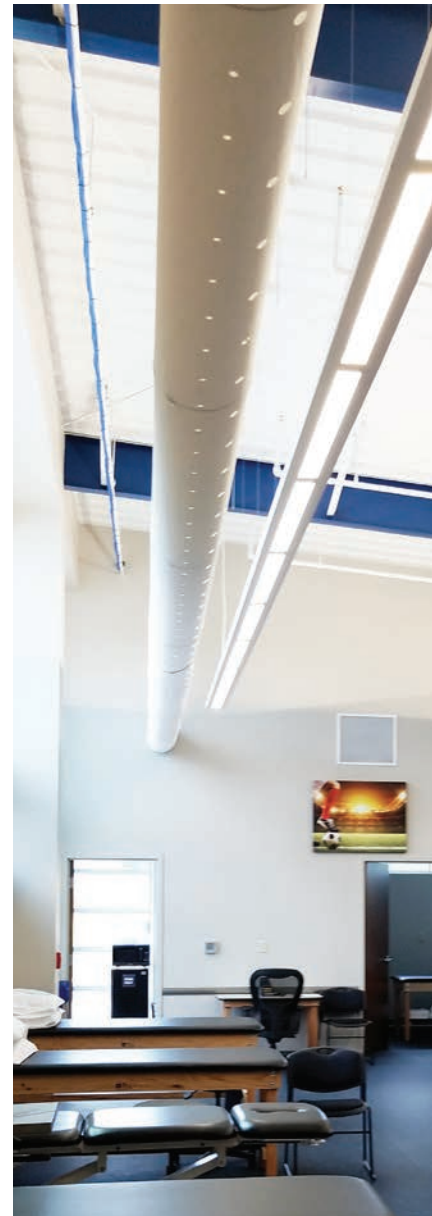

As a member of the Metal Building Manufacturers Association (MBMA), we'll provide the product, service, and value-added benefits required to ensure your project exceeds your expectations.

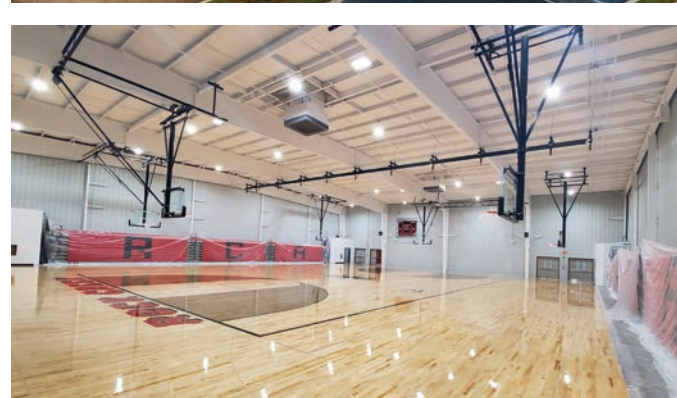

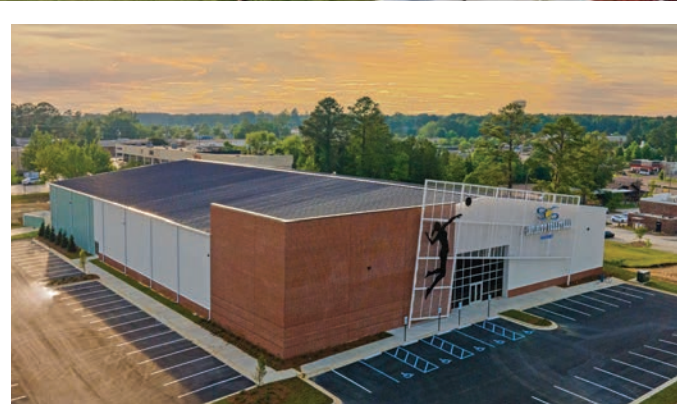

REDUCED CONSTRUCTION TIME & MAINTENANCE

Kirby's building systems offer the fastest, most economical way to build without compromising quality. Kirby Building Systems brings flexibility, as well as efficiency, to the design and construction of your facility.

PERSONALIZED SERVICE

Kirby teammates back up our product with outstanding, hands-on service. As part of Kirby's culture, our teammates are constantly challenged to find innovative ways to solve problems and to be more productive.
