

December 2023

Kirby Awards Builder of the Year

For the sixth year in a row, Kirby is excited to announce Stewart Richey Construction of Bowling Green, KY as Builder of the Year. Stewart Richey, started in 1973, is a group of specialty subcontractors, with emphasis in commercial, industrial, and manufacturing projects. The business has been an Authorized Kirby Builder since 1985. With the highest sales and volume, they have been recognized as Builder of the Year for 2022.

“We enjoy and appreciate being part of the Stewart Richey successes,” said Kirby Sales Manager Tim Kessel. “Together we help each other win profitable work and build some amazing buildings. We appreciate the past success, but we are even more excited about the future.”

Kirby recently hosted a recognition event at the Bowling Green Country Club with the Stewart Richey team and Kirby’s leadership.

Steel plate made by Kirby production teammates at the KBS facility in Tennessee.